Former Pease Air Force Base Restoration Advisory Board seeks community members to fill vacancies

JOINT BASE SAN ANTONIO-LACKLAND, Texas – The Restoration Advisory Board (RAB) for the former Pease Air Force Base, New Hampshire, is seeking community members to fill two openings on the board in January 2024.

The RAB is a working group composed of local community members and representatives from the Air Force and other state and local organizations to meet and discuss Air Force environmental restoration activities associated with the former installation. The RAB is also a forum for community members to provide feedback at certain points throughout the restoration process.

All individuals who live or work in the community or are affected by the former installation's environmental restoration activities can apply to be community RAB members. Board organizers encourage membership diversity and welcome applications from all members of the community. A selection team on the Board will evaluate candidates based on their application form responses. Criteria such as level of interest, commitment to attend meetings and participate, and community involvement will be considered.

Examples of RAB Community Member responsibilities include, but are not limited to: Attending all RAB meetings, providing individual input in an open, honest and constructive manner, asking questions and communicating community concerns to the RAB as well as concerns from the RAB back to the community, observing rules and operating procedures when participating at RAB meetings or interacting with other RAB members, agreeing to an average quarterly time commitment of eight hours or more, reviewing documents and other materials related to restoration projects, as well as serving without compensation.

Notification of selection will be made prior to the next scheduled RAB meeting on February 13. The Pease RAB is accepting applications until January 31.

The RAB member application form is available on the Air Force's Pease web page at: <https://www.afcec.af.mil/Home/BRAC/Pease-Archives/>
